HAWORTH®

It's possible to epitomize simplicity and be rich with details.

Clean. Minimal. Exactly what is needed — no more, no less. York's designer envisioned a line of non-opinionated wood casegoods that could take on different demeanors — in other words, an accommodating tool for designers faced with a variety of challenges. At the same time, York conveys an expressive sense of detail and grandeur, inspired by the nineteenth century partner's desk. The result references tradition without being the least bit stuffy. With York, it's possible.

It's possible to satisfy all expectations without sacrificing continuity.

Look once, and York sets the perfect stage for a junior associate. Look again and it's rich and grand, communicating the success that comes with years of hard work. Scaled up or down, at every level of the firm or office, York provides consistency, giving designers plenty of tools while seamlessly tying the entire space together. With York, it's possible.

It's possible to celebrate wood and respect the environment.

Sometimes beauty thinks only of itself. But other times what's beautiful is also responsible and pure in its concern for what surrounds it. That's true for York, which depends on wood for its character but refuses to sacrifice nature in the process. York offers the choice of Lyptus®, a plantation-grown hybrid eucalyptus tree that grows rapidly and utilizes the same root structure for subsequent growths. With York, it's possible.

Transaction shelves in glass, stone, or wood can be specified to meet unique aesthetic needs.

It's possible to enhance functionality and the first impression.

The first greeting sets a visitor's expectations for an environment, and a company. York's administrative and reception stations ensure that image is positive, by integrating aesthetically with adjacent offices and the complete floorplate. Each option addresses the specific needs of administrative and reception staff — balancing privacy with an inviting space for welcoming visitors. With York, it's possible.

It's possible to exude beauty and be unassuming.

Beautiful veneers and craftsmanship, highlighting the natural intricacies found in wood, are the hallmark of York. The character of the wood moves to the forefront, with nothing unnecessary to distract from its quiet confidence. Highly figured doors and drawers set off jewel-like metal reveals and pear wood inlays. It's at once stunning and subtle. With York, it's possible.

The essence of possibility.

York celebrates the beauty of wood with pairs of contrasting veneer species separated by a metal trim reveal available in silver, bronze or black.

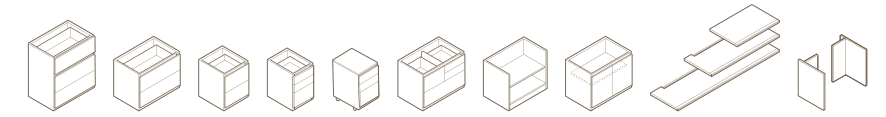

Worksurfaces are available with standard edge or the thick edge with pear wood inlay.

York offers a high performance acrylic finish on work surfaces and a catalyzed lacquer on cases, ensuring a pronounced grain definition and superior appearance.
